Board Resignations Accepted

Council Approves Parking Plan

Approval of two-hour free parking in downtown Murray on a three-month trial was one of the highlights of Thursday's meeting of the Murray City Council which also included action on a rezoning proposal and discussion of the operation of the Murray Electric System and its board of directors.

The parking meters have been removed from spaces in the downtown business district — with the exception of the municipal parking lot which will remain as metered parking — for the 90-day trial period. Signs have been erected designating the parking spaces as two-hour parking between 7 a.m. and 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

The parking will be patrolled by the city dog warden when he is not tied up with other duties. The patrolman will mark the tires of cars with chalk and any car that has not been moved after the two-hour free limit will be subject to a fine.

The council approved the drawing of an ordinance rezoning property adjacent to the Parker Ford building on Main Street (the former Swann estate) from professional office to commercial (B-3) use.

The rezoning had been requested by Parker Ford which purchased the property.

The Murray Planning Commission voted 6-3 to recommend to the council approval of the rezoning. It was pointed out that there was no opposition to the proposal at the public hearing on the matter and that the planning commission had received written letters of support from adjacent property owners.

The council accepted letters of resignation from positions on the Murray Electric Plant board from Larry Hurt and Donald Jones. Hurt recently moved outside the city limits and it has been determined that Jones' residence, even though it is served by MES, is also outside the city. Kentucky statutes require members of the board to reside within the corporate limits of the municipality.

The council discussed allegations Jones listed in his letter of resignation and directed that the electric system board check into the charges made by Jones and report back to the council. The specifics of the allegations were not discussed publicly.

Leonard Vaughn, a member of the MES board, said this morning that the board would welcome such scrutiny and would be happy to work with the council on the matter.

The council approved Mayor Melvin B. Henley's recommendations that Tommy Carroll be appointed to fill out Hurt's term on the board which expires June 30, 1980 and that Mary Jane Jackson be appointed to fill out Jones' term, which expires June 30, 1982.

The term of Bill Boyd, the board's present chairman, has also expired but action on a replacement for Boyd was delayed by the council. Under the statutes, a board member may continue to serve after the expiration of his or her term until a successor is named.

The fifth member of the board is Ruby Hale, the city council's representative on the panel.

In other action, the council:

— Approved the drawing of ordinances setting the salary for the city clerk at $14,500 per year for 1980-81 and the salary for the city treasurer at $400 per year.

— Heard a report from City Clerk Jo Crass and Sanitation Department Superintendent Jerry Wallace concerning the new Model Procurement code which goes into effect Jan. 1, 1980. The code sets out requirements that must be adhered to by government agencies in Kentucky in making purchases for that agency.

Iran Announces It Will Boycott U.N. Security Council Meeting

By ALEXANDER G. HIGGINS
Associated Press Writer

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Iran announced today it will boycott a U.N. Security Council meeting on the American Embassy takeover, further darkening prospects for an early resolution of the dangerous showdown with the United States. A U.N. spokesman said the meeting would go on nevertheless.

Hundreds of thousands of Iranian demonstrators surrounded the embassy today, the 27th day of captivity there for 50 American hostages, but there was no violence.

Sadeq Ghotbzadeh, the man newly named by Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini as acting foreign minister, announced at a news conference, "According to the decision made by the Revolutionary Council, we are not attending the Security Council meeting tomorrow."

He reiterated Khomeini's contention that the Security Council is under the thumb of the United States and said any Council decision "is not binding and we don't accept it."

The United States is seeking a council resolution calling for release of the hostages. But Iran wanted the council to take up its allegations against the deposed Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi and its demand that the United States surrender him to the Iranians before release of the hostages can be considered. Iran says the shah must be put on trial on charges of mass murder and looting the country's wealth.

Ghotbzadeh said Iran would "keep our contacts" with the Security Council for possible further discussions.

And Ghotbzadeh seemed to leave the door open to negotiation. He repeated the elements of an Iranian plan whereby the U.S. government would agree to an international inquiry into the shah's 37-year regime and accept its findings, after which "the United States could return the shah easily." At what point the hostages would be freed remains unclear.

In New York, Rudolf Stajduhar, spokesman for U.N. Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim, said the meeting would go on as planned, but it might be rescheduled from Saturday night to Saturday morning or afternoon.

Ghotbzadeh also said he welcomed the decision of the Mexican government Thursday to bar re-entry to the shah, who has been told by his doctors he is able to leave his New York hospital bed. Egypt's President Anwar Sadat today repeated his offer to the shah to establish a permanent residence in Egypt.

America's U.N. ambassador, Donald McHenry, told NBC-TV there was a possibility the Council might adopt sanctions against Iran. "We have to take some kind of effective measures to pressure Iran," he said. On Thursday, the U.S. government urged the International Court of Justice in the Netherlands to order the release of the hostages.

Legions of demonstrators surrounded the U.S. Embassy today, the holiest and most emotionally charged day of the Shiite Moslem calendar, but dispersed peacefully after six hours of prayers. Thousands more joined another prayer meeting at Tehran University.

The demonstrators at the embassy carried religious and political banners and stood with their backs to the main gates, facing the direction of the Moslem holy city of Mecca, more than 1,000 miles to the southwest in Saudi Arabia.

Many of the demonstrators rallied first at the university campus, where row upon row of women were seated on the ground and dressed in the traditional black head-to-toe veil. Ranks of men, also in black, carried chain whips on their shoulders to signify Islam's fight against evil.

"Everybody's going to the espionage center," said one marcher in his 20s as the procession to the embassy began. He referred to Khomeini's claim that the American mission in Tehran was a "spy nest."

Khomeini, who is orchestrating his country's holy war against America, called on Iran's Shiite Moslem majority to use the Ashura holy day, a time of ritual mass mourning for the founder of the Moslem sect, to vent their fury against the United States.

Tens of thousands turned up outside the embassy Thursday night, chanting prayers and shouting the Islamic watchword: "Allahu Akbar!" — "God is Great!"

The Iranians are threatening to put the embassy hostages on trial as alleged. But at the news conference Ghotbzadeh said three senior American envoys who have been held at the Iranian Foreign Ministry during the crisis, including the U.S. charge d'affaires in Tehran, L. Bruce Laingen, would not be tried.

"If they ever want to leave, they are free to leave," he said. But he quickly qualified the statement, saying he was unsure whether there was adequate security to allow them to leave the country.

NASA Program Visits Murray City Schools

"This was the best assembly we ever had!"

"Space subjects are so interesting!" "Wish we could have more programs like this!"

These were some of the comments made by students at Murray Middle School and Murray High School after participating in the National Aeronautics and Space Administration programs held Tuesday and Wednesday with George Allison, consultant from Langley Research Center, Hampton, Va.

Assemblies were held for the entire student bodies at the two schools, and seminars were held during the two days for Project Independence students and other interested science students. Planetary explorations, energy, space shuttle, and advanced missions were among the topics studied. Models and demonstrations were used to illustrate concepts and explain programs.

A special seminar was held for the schools' science teachers where they became qualified to work with lunar objects. Those teachers participating in the seminar were Mrs. Pat McMullin, Mrs. Pam Cartwright, Mrs. Mary Jane Littleton, Jerry Cridder, Jerry Shelton, Lloyd Hasty and Willie Jackson.

The Murray City Schools are the only public schools in the state of Kentucky visited by NASA this fall. "We consider ourselves very fortunate to have been able to have this high caliber educational program in our schools," said Mrs. Peggy Brown, coordinator of the program.

CONCERT VIOLINIST — Michael Haney, 4, a participant in the String Project at Murray State University, gets instruction in holding his violin bow in preparation for the project's fall concert Sunday, Dec. 2, at the university. The son of Roger and Ann Haney, King Richard Drive, Murray, he is a student in the multi-age, pre-school program at the university. Fifty youngsters from six West Kentucky communities and ranging in age from 3 to 15 will perform at the concert, scheduled for 2:30 p.m. in the Recital Hall of the Fine Arts Annex.

Fifty Youngsters To Perform In MSU's String Project On Sunday

Fifty youngsters, ranging in age from 3 to 15, will perform Sunday, Dec. 2, at Murray State University when a concert, climaxing the fall semester of the university's fourth annual String Project, is presented in the Recital Hall of the Fine Arts Annex.

Six West Kentucky communities — Lynn Grove, Dexter, Mayfield, Gilbertsville, Paducah and Murray — are represented among the youngsters, who have been coming to the campus twice a week since early October for individual and group instruction in violin, cello and bass violin.

Beginning at 2:30 p.m. and to which the public is invited, the concert will include performances by three orchestras — pre-orchestra, elementary and advanced — arranged by age and experience groupings.

Directing the numbers will be the eight Murray State students who have been working with the youngsters each week:

Kip Mason, Urbana-Champaign, Ill., a graduate student; Karen Burnett, a senior, Rolling Meadows, Ill.; Scott Anderson, sophomore, Louisville; Julie Heil, sophomore, Millstadt, Ill.

Also, Jane Harold, senior, Reidland; Terri Miller, junior; Owensboro; Karen Himmer, Cahokia, Ill., graduate student; and Rosemary Dowell, senior, Central City. All are string music majors at the university.

The project is directed by Robert Gillespie, an instructor in violin and viola and who joined the faculty in September, 1978.

The project's spring semester will begin the week of Jan. 22, Gillespie said, adding that several vacancies are expected to exist at that time.

This is the fourth year that Murray State music department has operated the project in a concentrated effort to stimulate renewed interest in the playing of string instruments among youngsters in the elementary and secondary schools.

The project, Gillespie has said, also helps fill an increasing need for qualified string teachers in both private and public schools by providing practical teaching experiences for the university's string instrument majors.

Additional information about the program may be obtained by writing or calling the Director, String Project, Department of Music, Murray State University, Murray, KY 42071. The telephone number is (Area Code 502) 762-4288.

NCAA Regulations Prohibit Tie Score In MSU-Lehigh Playoff

When the sun sets on Murray State University's Roy Stewart Stadium Saturday, Dec. 8, one thing will be certain:

A winner will have been determined in the National Collegiate Athletic Association, Class 1-AA Division football playoff game between the Racers and the Engineers from Lehigh University and Bethlehem, Pa.

There will be no tie score. NCAA playoff regulations prohibit this. The winner will be decided in overtime play.

Should the score be tied at the final whistle, the officials, the regulations dictate, will instruct both teams to retire to their respective sideline areas. The officials then will gather at the 50-yard line and review the tie-breaker procedures.

Then, without delay, the officials will go directly to the team benches and inform the coaches which end of the field will be used for the start of the first overtime period.

The team captains will be called to the center of the field for a coin toss, following the same procedure as that used for the pregame toss with the visiting captain calling heads or tails while the coin is in the air.

The winner of the coin toss is then given the option of selecting offense or defense for the first possession of the first overtime period and any subsequent odd-numbered overtime periods. The loser of the toss will have this option before all even-numbered overtime periods.

The referee then selects the goal toward which the overtime periods shall be played, and places the ball on the 15-yard line.

After the first team on offense has had the ball for its series, whether it has scored or not, the other team becomes the offensive team with the ball back on the 15-yard line, first and 10.

Each team will have the ball until it has scored or failed to gain a first and 10 by either running out of downs or losing possession through an intercepted pass, recovered backward pass, fumble or unsuccessful field goal attempt. Excluding penalties, a team in most cases would have a maximum of eight attempts to score.

The defensive team cannot score in the overtime. When the defensive team gains possession of the football by recovering a fumble, intercepting a pass, recovering a backward pass or after a field-goal attempt is unsuccessful, the ball is dead and play stops.

Just in case the game ends in a tie, that's the way the team which will advance to the national championship game Dec. 15 in Orlando, Fla., will be determined.

No Closet Space For Gay Husband

By Abigail Van Buren

1979 by Chicago Tribune N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I never thought that I, a 45-year-old woman, would ever be writing a Dear Abby letter, but I am so confused and frustrated I don't know where else to turn. My husband is 52. We've been married 24 years and have four children. About three years ago my husband lost all interest in the physical side of our marriage. Thinking it was something he couldn't help, I didn't make an issue of it, although I found it very hard to live with.

Last week he confessed that he is gay! He says he loves me and will never leave me and the children, and he hopes I can put up with a sexless life because he has decided to sacrifice his true nature for the sake of our marriage.

Don't tell me to see my minister. He is my minister. If I were to discuss this with another minister or my husband's superior, he would lose his job and probably come out of the closet and then leave.

I went to a psychiatrist in a neighboring city. He gave me some tranquilizers and said I needed several sessions to get over my depression, but I can't afford his prices. Please help me.

NO NAME OR TOWN, PLEASE

DEAR NO NAME: Your husband is obviously bisexual, which is no crime. (People do not choose their sexuality.) You need counseling and so does your husband. Ask your psychiatrist to refer you to a mental health clinic where treatment is available within your means.

Also, nearly all religious groups now offer special counseling for gay members and clergy as well. Write again and let me know which denomination you belong to, and I'll advise you whom to contact.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a man who's in the service who writes his girlfriend (my sister) letters that go into such gross details of their intimate times together that it would make anybody throw up right on the spot?

In case you think I snooped and read the letters without my sister's permission, I didn't. She showed them to me! NEW JERSEY SISTER

DEAR SISTER: The man who wrote those letters credited his girlfriend with more common sense, discretion and maturity than she possesses. Don't you wonder why your sister wanted to share those letters with you? I do.

DEAR ABBY: There is this couple with whom my husband and I go to dinner quite often — for business reasons. The wife chews ice like a teenager with bad manners. She drains her water glass, sucks the ice and then spits it back into the glass. The noise she makes while doing this simply drives me up a wall! Should I say something to her about it? LOUISVILLE, KY.

DEAR LOUISVILLE: Does your husband BUY from her husband? Or does he SELL to him?

CONFIDENTIAL TO JACKIE IN JACKSON, MISS. Don't activate anything you don't intend to finalize.

Who said the teen years are the happiest? For Abby's new booklet "What Teenagers Want to Know," write Abby: 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Enclose $1 and a long, stamped (28 cents), self-addressed envelope, please.

The slightest thing goes wrong and you may lose confidence. At the same time success could go to your head. Find a happy medium.

Don't be penny-wise and pound-foolish. You're willing to overspend when interested, yet inclined to be stingy re necessities.

VIRGO

After initial caution, your mood could swing to overconfidence. Don't let self-worth depend on the approbation of others.

LIBRA

A social gathering looks promising, but a close tie may wish to leave early. On your own, you're liable to overspend or play too hard.

THE ACES IRA G. CORN, JR.

"Wise men learn by other men's mistakes, fools by their own." -- H.G. Bohn.

All can learn from East's mistake in his defense of today's toss-up game. East covered an honor with an honor and that was the slip that blew the game.

North dodged an unlucky contract when he went past three no trump. Against three no trump, East would have led the jack of clubs and North would have been able to cash only eight tricks before the defense could take their five.

Against five diamonds, South was luckier. West's only safe lead was a trump, but he missed that and led a spade. Dummy's nine forced East's king and declarer took his ace.

The king and jack of trumps came next and a low spade was led to dummy. West taking his queen. A third spade went to dummy's jack and declarer discarded a club. Completing the strip of the hand, dummy's ace of clubs was cashed and dummy's last club was ruffed.

Now it was time to play hearts. Declarer crossed to dummy with a trump and led an enticing jack of hearts. East erred and covered and that was the end of the defense. Declarer's ace won and a heart lead to dummy held declarer's losses to only two tricks.

West's unfortunate lead could be charged to luck, but East's cover of the heart jack was a mistake. Correct procedure is for East to duck the first honor played.

Christ Preeminent In All Things

Colossians 1:9-20

Upon receiving from Epaphras a full report of the Lord's work in Colosse, Paul wrote the Christians there, whom he had never seen, and assured them of his genuine interest in them and earnest prayers for them. He expressed his gratitude for their faith in Christ, their love for all the saints, their hope in Christ for the future, and their effectiveness in disseminating the gospel. Paul prayed that they might be filled with a thorough knowledge of God's will for them, which is a primary need of every Christian, as well as a prerequisite to Christian joy, growth, and usefulness. Paul prayed that the Christians at Colosse might walk in a worthy manner, that they might be strengthened of the Lord to such an extent that their lives would be pleasing to Christ and profitable to others, that they might excel in patience, and that they might be truly grateful to God. He was anxious for them to overcome their temptations, to grow in grace and knowledge, and to be fruitful in good works.

In verses twelve to fourteen Paul mentioned three things which should cause all Christians to be thankful, namely, the portion which they have inherited, the power from which they have been delivered, and the price at which they have been redeemed. Since no human being could redeem another, God sent His Son to redeem us from our sins, and the price which Christ paid for our redemption was His own precious blood poured out on Calvary's cross. That wonderful forgiveness, which was made available to us through the work of Christ for us, certainly merits our repeated expressions of thanks to God for it.

Paul's assertion about the preeminence of Christ fills us with an overwhelming sense of the majesty and glory of our Saviour. We enjoy a new throb of assurance and satisfaction because of Paul's reference to Christ as the visible representation of the invisible God. Describing Him as the "firstborn," he let us know that Christ is entitled to the position of rank, dignity and supremacy.

Today's lesson reminds us that Christ is above all in creation. Out of nothing Christ created all that is (John 1:3). In Christ alone all things find their orderly arrangement and cohere or hold together. Christ is preeminent in redemption. "Christ died for our sins." For Him there is no substitute, nor will He ever have a successor. So far as redemption is concerned Christ is man's only hope.

Christ is preeminent in the church. Because He is the mighty source of its life, the bond of its fellowship, and the One for whom it bears witness, He must be given His rightful place in all its activities. Let us be sure that we give the preeminent and peerless Christ the place of supremacy in our living, our giving, our witnessing, and our hoping. He desires and deserves the preeminence in our lives.

Calloway County

1822-1976

By Dorothy and Kerby Jennings

-240

The Rev. H. B. Taylor, pastor of the First Baptist Church for 35 years, lost his pastorate in a church election to the Rev. J. E. Skinner by a vote of 121 to 141. The militant pastor severed membership with the church and joined the flock at Scott's Grove Church just north of the city. The traumatic experience, no doubt, contributed to his declining health and he died the morning of June 1, 1932, at the Baptist Hospital in Memphis at the age of 62 years. Memorial services were held at the First Baptist Church in one of the largest attended funerals in the history of the town.

Rev. Mr. Taylor was a ministerial stalwart in Baptist Church circles. At the time of his death he had conducted the West Kentucky Bible Institute at his residence on North 5th Street for 10 years. For approximately 20 years he had published the News and Truths, a national and foreign land circulated religious newspaper with over 3,000 subscribers. He was a magnificent and militant crusader of the fundamentalist philosophy of Christian discipleship. He had the courage of his convictions. Perhaps more aptly expressed by Wordsworth:

"One in whom persuasion and belief
Had ripened into faith, and faith became
A passionate intuition."

The depression squeeze was tightening by the week with the slack being absorbed in part with the employment of 700 men on relief jobs in the county, most of whom were maintaining and rebuilding of roads, with another hundred waiting in line for work. Local citizens made angry protest when out-of-county workmen were employed on road contracts held by foreign contractors. The mysterious death of one of the imports on the east side of the county went unsolved as to the identity of the assailant. Eighteen hundred garden plots were made ready in early spring to stave off a food shortage in Murray for the following winter.

Banking facilities were limited. The two Hazel banks were authorized to open March 16, 1933, after the national banking holiday. First National Bank of Murray was closed March 28, 1933, and placed in the hands of a conservator, John Ryan, who had successfully negotiated the holiday problems earlier for the Bank of Murray. Mr. Ryan placed on the locked doors of the First National a notice: "Due to the construction placed upon the amendment of March 9 to the National Banking Law, the late plan of reorganization has had to be abandoned." Mr. Hall Hood later replaced Mr. Ryan as attorney to manage the affairs of this troubled institution. Mr. Hood appeared before the Comptroller of the U. S. Treasury on May 25 in an effort to reorganize the First National Bank, but failed.

HEARTLINE

Heartline is a service for senior citizens. Its purpose is to answer questions and solve problems — fast. If you have a question or a problem not answered in these columns, write Heartline, 114 E. Dayton St., West Alexandria, Ohio 45381. You will receive a prompt reply, but you must include a stamped, self-addressed envelope. The most useful replies will be printed in this column.

HEARTLINE: I am 93 years old and have children in nine states. I have grandchildren in another five states and great-grandchildren all over the nation. I am going to be sending Christmas packages to 19 states. These will not be expensive gifts, except for one in particular. Can you give me any tips on how to mail or ship these things? With gas costing as much as it does, the high cost of food in restaurants and the ridiculous charges for motel rooms, many of them who traveled home each year in the past will not be doing so this Christmas. Any help you can give will be appreciated. — L. R.

We hope that it comes as a pleasant surprise to you that there are several ways of sending packages, depending on weight and distance to be shipped, that can prove a savings over the U.S. mail. We have listed some of the means of shipping below, and you should do some shopping around for the way that best suits your need. Always ask about insurance that will be included in the price of the shipment. Make sure that your package is wrapped according to the specifications of the carrier. Also make sure that your package is not larger than the carrier allows.

The chart below, listing prices and shipping time, as well as weight limits, is a comparison of various services based ed on a 10-pound package:

New York to New York Maximum
Los Angeles to Chicago weight

Amtrak $7.50/4 days $7.50/1 day 75 lbs.
Greyhound $10.90/3 days $6.95/1 day 100 lbs.

U.S. parcel post $5.34/9 days $2.83/6 days 70 lbs.

U.S. priority mail $8.16/3 days $5.33/2 days 70 lbs.

Trailways $11.45/3 days $7.30/1 day 150 lbs.

United Parcel Service (air) $7.31/2 days $5.60/2 days 50 lbs.

United Parcel Service (ground) $3.72/5 days $2.26/3 days 50 lbs.

(The rates quoted are subject to change. Check with the carrier of your choice for further information, including availability of pick-up, and/or delivery service.)

HEARTLINE: I am 67 years old and have Medicare. Every year when I start using the furnace all the time, I run into problems. The lack of humidity in the air causes my throat and nose to get very dry, and I seem to have a sore throat all the time. My doctor told me that if I got a humidifier, the problem would be solved. He said that he thought Medicare would pay for a humidifier if it were medically necessary, so I purchased one. I sent the claim in to Medicare, and it was disallowed. Can you tell me why they did not help me pay for it? — P. T.

Your doctor was wrong. Medicare will not cover a humidifier under any circumstances.

For persons who now have or will soon have Medicare, we have written a book of facts on the program. The book contains up-to-date information and answers many of the most common questions, plus it gives information not contained in most government literature concerning the things Medicare will and will not cover. In your case, you can see that it would have been helpful to know in advance that Medicare would not cover the cost of a humidifier. To order a copy, send $1.75 to Medicare Guidebook, 114 E. Dayton St., West Alexandria, Ohio 45381.

HEARTLINE: My husband was in WWII and he got an honorable discharge. The other day, we were looking for his discharge paper. It says that he got an honorable discharge for this reason — C.D.D. Can you tell us what this means? — S. N.

These letters mean that he was discharged because of an injury sustained while in the service.

Reagan-Kemp Taxonomics

HUNT VALLEY, Md. — When Ronald Reagan told the Maryland Republican dinner here about tax-cutting ideas of "a young congressman from New York — Jack Kemp," he signalled a campaign strategy change of profound potential consequences in presidential politics.

That morning at a Hopkinsville, Ky., rally, Reagan plugged Rep. Kemp. The night before at a black-tie $500-a-plate dinner on a Kentucky bluegrass horse farm, he did the same. The night before that, Reagan praised the congressman (seated beside him) at a dinner in his Buffalo constituency. Indeed, since summer's end, Jack Kemp has replaced the notorious "welfare queen" of 1976 as a stock character in Reagan's stump oratory.

More importantly, pushing tax relief for blue-collar workers has replaced flogging welfare recipients. Alone among Republican presidential hopefuls, front-runner Reagan ardently presses a huge across-the-board tax reduction. While the Reagan of early summer still played to Main Street merchants by castigating federal regulation, he now seeks to sway broader audiences from Sen. Edward M. Kennedy by preaching economic hope through tax cuts instead of austerity through reduced growth.

This has reformed the old but recently diminished relationship between Reagan and Kemp. Reagan's embrace of Kemp's view of tax-cutting as anti-inflationary has moved Kemp within a step of joining the Reagan-for-president organization (perhaps as national chairman or co-chairman). That would rule out Kemp's candidacy for the Senate but suggests bigger things ahead — possibly, predicts one senior Reagan staffer, a Reagan-Kemp ticket. On or off the ticket, Kemp within the Reagan campaign would fight a sunbelt strategy and insist on appealing to blue-collar workers in the Northeast. Reagan would advocate what neither Democrats nor most businessmen support: broad-based tax cuts to combat inflationary destruction of the worker's standard of living.

None of this seemed possible earlier this year when Reagan talked as one dedicated to the deep root canal school of economics: If it hurts you, it must be good for you. In private, he endorsed recession as the antidote to inflation. Wooing Reagan away from this conventional Republicanism, no easy struggle, turned on two advisers: Dr. Martin Anderson, Reagan's policy chief in Los Angeles, and Richard J. Whalen, a Washington-based consultant. Anderson and Whalen are both proteges of Dr. Arthur Burns, high priest of the deep root canal school. Before convincing their candidate, Anderson and Whalen had to disagree with their mentor and change their own minds.

All this was unknown to Kemp just one month ago. Discouraged by lack of interest in tax reduction by all Republican presidential hopefuls, Kemp was pondering a secret overture from California tax-cut crusader Howard Jarvis proposing a Kemp-for-president campaign. It was then that Kemp was shown a preliminary draft of Reagan's Nov. 13 speech in which he will announce his candidacy; it included an emphatic call for tax cuts.

Reagan has been giving previews of Nov. 13 daily. At the Hunt Valley speech in suburban Baltimore County, he devoted 14 minutes to tax reduction, rejecting two dogmas: that prosperity means inflation and that the balanced budget is inviolate.

"Anybody can balance the budget by raising taxes, and inflation is a tax," said Reagan, calling present inflation-hiked tax rates "a penalty imposed on working men and women." He commented tax reduction as "another way to balance the budget and another way to end the inflation." In words lifted from Kemp's speech book, Reagan declared: "I do not believe inflation is caused by too many people working." While all Reagan's presidential rivals give lip service to tax reduction, all seem truly committed to the deep root canal school. Neither George Bush nor John Connally endorsed the 1978 Kemp-Roth tax-cut bill and seldom bring up tax reduction today. Neither does Sen. Howard Baker. While reaffirming support of Kemp-Roth on NBC's Meet the Press Oct. 7 (following months of silence), Baker declared Treasury Secretary G. William Miller was correct at the World Bank meeting the Belgrade when he called for "austerity" by Americans.

Asked the same question by us, Reagan dropped out of the deep root canal school: "He (Miller) is voicing that old-fashioned economics that the choice is between inflation and recession." In his Kentucky and Maryland speeches, Reagan criticized world financial leaders in Belgrade for advocating U.S. recession to stop inflation.

Those comments followed a half-hour private economic discussion in Buffalo between Reagan and Kemp. Four days later, Kemp conferred in Washington with Reagan campaign manager John Sears. All that seems lacking for Kemp to board the Reagan bandwagon is assurance the Nov. 13 speech will reflect his economic views. In view of Reagan's largely ignored current stump speaking, it is almost a certainty that Mr. Conservative will take a position that frightens corporate boardrooms but combat Ted Kennedy's welfarism on factory assembly lines.

HEALTH

Possibly an inflammation

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — For the past six months I've been having a problem with my rectum. I've been to two proctologists and they both tell me that I have one small hemorrhoid. Every day since I suffer inside and out of the anal area. I have burning and a feeling of drawing and fullness. I had a prescription for sulfa and also an injection but still no relief. Day after day the situation continues and I'm worried about rectal cancer. I dread going to the bathroom because the discomfort is so great. I tried to look at the area myself and I can only see a very small bluish area and it's not swollen. Any suggestions would be very much appreciated.

DEAR READER — Burning and irritation aren't necessarily caused by hemorrhoids. The truth is internal hemorrhoids, which are those you can't see, usually don't cause symptoms. You can have inflammation in the area which can cause burning and it may be unrelated to hemorrhoids. A good example here is a person who eats hot, spicy food and later on has burning with subsequent bowel movements. Because of the tendency for this to occur after some Mexican foods that are very hot and spicy, this condition has sometimes been referred to as Mexican heartburn.

Sulfa drugs are not normally given for hemorrhoids. That suggests to me that whoever prescribed them must have thought you had some sort of inflammatory disease of the rectal area rather than just simple hemorrhoids.

I'm sending you The Health Letter number 13-12, Hemorrhoids: New Treatments For An Old Affliction, to give you a better idea of what hemorrhoids are and what can be done about them. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Burning, irritation and symptoms of hemorrhoids, as explained in The Health Letter I'm sending you, are usually associated with external hemorrhoids, not the internal form. Since you can't see anything, this implies you may not have any significant external hemorrhoids.

You could have a fissure which means a crack in the area which can certainly cause some of the symptoms that you're complaining about and it would be difficult or impossible for you to see any problem.

I wish there was a good answer I could give you but because your story suggests you may have an inflammatory process, I think you'll need to continue to see your doctor and if you're not getting relief, just simply return until you do. If you just had a simple internal hemorrhoid, there are a number of procedures which could be done which should relieve your problem but I would like to repeat again that simple, plain internal hemorrhoids are prone to bleed rather than to cause symptoms.

And I'm very pleased that you went to see a doctor because you were having a problem. Rectal and colon cancer combined are the second most common cause of cancer deaths in both men and women. Anyone who has a change in bowel habits or unexplained bleeding or pain or other problems would be well advised to see a doctor as soon as possible. Most of these cancers can be cured if they're detected early. The problem is many of them aren't detected soon enough to provide the best opportunity for treatment.

Journalist Is Eyewitness To Plane Crash

EDITOR'S NOTE — Paul Cavanagh, a New Zealand journalist, was among a team of officials and crash investigators who reached the site of the Air New Zealand DC-10 which crashed into an Antarctic volcano Wednesday, killing all 257 persons aboard. Here is his pool dispatch.

By PAUL CAVANAGH
MOUNT EREBUS, Antarctica (AP) — Smoke from Antarctica's only active volcano meanders slowly skyward. A few hundred yards away, one of the few recognizable pieces of wreckage from an Air New Zealand DC-10 offers mute testimony to one of aviation history's worst disasters.

This is the scene on the slopes of 12,400-foot Mount Erebus, where the jetliner crashed and exploded Wednesday on a sightseeing trip, killing all 257 persons aboard, including 21 Americans.

Rescue workers, mountaineers and Air New Zealand officials today began the task of recovering and identifying bodies and establishing the cause of the crash.

So searing was the heat of the explosion that surrounding snow has been glazed solid. At the time of the crash the aircraft was estimated to have still had two-thirds of its fuel load unused.

Part of the aircraft's tail, a couple of wheels, a fuselage section containing only four or five windows, part of a wing and an intact hot food container are the only substantial pieces among the blackened remains of the giant aircraft.

At the 2,000-foot mark on the steep snow-swept northern slopes of the mountain, a vertical black stripe marks clearly the spot where the DC-10 came to a fiery end.

Early estimates are that only between 50 and 70 bodies will be recoverable. The fiery blast was so intense that some bodies have been located hundreds of yards away from the main wreckage.

Some of these have clothing intact — an indication that death came from the blast of the explosion rather than from the fire itself.

A team from New Zealand's Scott Base, 25 miles away, has set up a 20-man camp at the crash site. A key to the cause of the crash will be the recovery of the plane's "black box" flight recorder.

The area has been roped, and dangerous crevasses marked. The northern slope of Erebus is pockmarked with crevasses.

According to Scott Base personnel, the three previous DC-10 sightseeing flights to the Scott Base area this season, all came in at varying heights.

The first was not seen from the ground because of low clouds; the second flew past so high that a telephoto lens was required to capture it on film, while the third swept much lower over the New Zealand and American bases.

The fourth flight never got as far as Scott Base. It was due at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday and the alert was raised shortly after 2 p.m. when the aircraft had not been sighted and when radio calls to the plane, which had been acknowledged on its approach to Ross Island, went unanswered.

HOW MUCH IS IT WORTH?

There is a great difference of opinion about the worth of a piece of art. One man thinks it the worthless scribbling of a child-another may find it to be a masterpiece.

There is a similar difference from one person to another regarding personal values. One may prize honesty above all other virtues, another may feel that loyalty is more important. The kinds of values one holds is strongly conditioned by one's upbringing. The church plays a vital role in shaping these values for those who are fortunate enough to have been reared to attend regularly.

Just as it takes education to appreciate art properly, so it takes a religious education to make moral choices. Don't leave such matters to chance-make sure your children receive the kind of religious education of which you approve. Attend the church or synagogue of your choice this week.

Miami Relives Good Old Days In Win Over Pats

MIAMI (AP) — Griese handing off to Csonka, just like old times — winning times, championship times for the Miami Dolphins.

Bob Griese, regaining the quarterback job he had lost after 13 seasons, and fullback Larry Csonka, continuing his amazing comeback, combined in the second half Thursday night to rally the Miami Dolphins to a 39-24 victory over the New England Patriots.

The 9-5 Dolphins moved closer to their first American Football Conference East title since 1974 — Csonka's last year before joining the World Football League.

"It felt like old times," Griese said, "the linemen opening the holes, Zerk in there, me standing back and giving him the ball. It was very reminiscent of the championship teams."

This Sunday in the National Football League, it's Cincinnati at Pittsburgh, Houston at Cleveland, Atlanta at San Diego, Denver at Buffalo, Chicago at Tampa Bay, Detroit at Philadelphia, Green Bay at Washington, the New York Giants at Dallas, Minnesota at Los Angeles, San Francisco at St. Louis, Seattle at Kansas City and Baltimore at the New York Jets. Oakland is at New Orleans on Monday night.

Coach Don Shula benched Griese last Sunday for the first time ever, but Griese came in and threw two touchdown passes to lead a 28-24 victory at Baltimore after starter Don Strock was knocked out by a tackler. Thursday night, Strock couldn't find his receivers, and at the half, the Dolphins trailed 17-13.

"At halftime, we felt the whole season rode on the second half. I made the decision to give Bob a chance to win the game," Shula said.

"He and No. 39 (Csonka) were fantastic," Shula said.

After the second-half kickoff, Griese moved the Dolphins 78 yards on nine plays, capping the drive with a 38-yard scoring pass to Nat Moore. Then, as he did in the Super Bowl years of the early '70s, Griese used his precise passes sparingly, content to give the ball to Csonka on inexorable, time-consuming drives.

He hit eight of 10 passes for 101 yards, while Csonka ground out 88 yards and three 1-yard touchdown plunges.

"I was just happy to contribute to the victory," Griese said. "The overriding key thing is that we won a very big game that moves us closer to a division championship."

A Patriots' loss to the Jets at New York Dec. 9 or a Dolphins victory here over the Jets Dec. 15 will clinch the title for them.

Griese, as is his style, rarely displayed emotion this season as he was heavily criticized by fans and reporters. But as he walked through the tunnel to the post-game dressing room, and fans who two weeks ago booed him chanted "Gree-see, Gree-see," his face spread into an uncharacteristic ear-to-ear grin.

"We were all glad to see Bob have such a good game," said guard Larry Little, another Super Bowl holdover. "We all stuck together through the bad times, and we stick together in the good times."

Shula was quick to reveal: "Bob will be my starter at Detroit."

"I'd rather play against Strock than Griese any time," New England safety Tim Fox said. "Griese probably doesn't have the physical ability Strock does, but he's got such field awareness. He does a good job reading coverages, and he very rarely throws into coverage. He is just more effective than Strock. I think we had Strock confused."

Csonka's performance lifted his 1979 rushing total to 783 yards, eight yards better than what he managed over the last two full seasons with the Giants. The 32-year-old bulldozer, referring to recent suggestions that Griese was washed up at age 34, said, "I don't think Bob is really all that old."

"Bob came in and made the right calls. He's got a great understanding of the game. It's been a tough year for him, game in, game out, but you saw what happened when it really counted," Csonka said. "We just couldn't get them out in the second half," said Patriots Coach Ron Erhardt. "We couldn't stop them."

During the game, Csonka became the sixth player in NFL history to accumulate 8,000 yards rushing in his career. He, like Griese, seemed more interested in the brightened postseason prospects.

"The second half was stand up and be counted time," Csonka said. "The old-timers came through and the younger players really dug in. This team has pretty good character, maybe championship character."

The Patriots, crippled by injuries and burdened by their continuing failure to live up to expectations, find themselves needing help to reach playoffs.

"I'm disappointed more than anything. We played hard and lost. We just got beat out there," said quarterback Steve Grogan, who passed for three touchdowns and 350 yards.

Defensive end Tony McGee said he felt "Angry, disappointed, mad, sad, disgusted, busted, can't be trusted."

"I tell you what, there's two weeks left and nobody better quit," McGee said. "We could still be 10-6 and we could still make the playoffs. But all that's if, if, if..."

The AFC Central remains deadlocked, with the 10-3 Steelers and Oilers battling toward a Dec. 10 showdown in Houston. The Browns are looking at wild-card possibilities at 8-5, two games behind them.

In the AFC West, San Diego — leading Denver by one — hopes to beat the Falcons and New Orleans in its next two games before hosting the Broncos in the season's Monday night finale.

In the NFC, Tampa Bay, which lost by one point last week to Minnesota, gets another chance to clinch the Central against the Bears. The Eagles will try to protect their onegame East lead over Washington and Dallas. They host the Cowboys Dec. 8.

The Rams are tied with New Orleans at 7-6 in the mid West and could pressure the Saints by beating the Vikings, whose six-year hold on the Central title has ended.

TRI-CAPTAINS — Serving as tri-captains for Lehigh University are defensive tackle Eric Yaszewski, quarterback Rich Andres and linebacker Jim McCormick. The Engineers, 9-2 on the season and ranked fourth in Division I-AA, will face No. 2 ranked Murray State University, 9-1-1, Dec. 8 at Roy Stewart Stadium in the first round of the division playoffs. The winner will travel to the Pioneer Bowl Dec. 15 in Orlando, Fla., to vie for the national championship. The other first round playoff contest will pit the University of Nevada-Reno against an opponent to be named later. Top prospects include Grambling State University and Eastern Kentucky University. Site for that game also will be selected later.

Calloway Girls Run Mark To 5-0 With 74-33 Victory Over Fulton

The Calloway County High School girls basketball team ran its record to 5-0 with a 74-33 triumph over Fulton City Thursday night.

Mina Todd paced the Lady Lakers with 20 points. Kim Willy tossed in 17 while Penny Overbey and Ladonna Overbey contributed 12 and 11, respectively.

Scoring for Calloway rounded out with Melissa Miller, 5; Rachel Lamb, Gina Hoke, Vicki Houghton and Dana Houk, 2 each; and Randa Key, 1.

Calloway jumped to an 18-6 first quarter advantage and held leads of 32-13 at the intermission and 52-19 at the end of the third quarter.

Burnett was the leading scorer for Fulton with 13.

The Calloway girls' next game will be Tuesday night when they host Marshall County High School.

Kings Coach Feels Team Is Ready To Be Championship Contender

Calloway Frosh Post Victory

The Calloway County High School freshmen boys team remained undefeated with a 64-38 win over Fulton City Thursday night.

Craig Darnell scored 18 points as the Lakers upped their season mark to 3-0. Jeff Garrison added 15 points.

Other scorers for Calloway were Rusty McKenzie, 8; Ricky Watson, 6; Terry Stubblefield and Rob Anderson, 5 each; Jeff Butterworth, Brian Tubbitis and Ricky Smith, 2 each; and Van Bucy, 1.

The Lakers held leads of 20-3 at the end of the first quarter, 38-7 at the half and 53-21 at the end of the third quarter.

Calloway will resume action Monday at North Marshall.

Basketball Association.

"We've always been a good team, even when we were losing six straight earlier," Fitzsimmons said following the Kings' 105-95 victory over the Detroit Pistons Thursday night.

Against the Pistons, Fitzsimmons said, "Our defense and our defensive rebounding were the deciding factors down the stretch."

"Our guys dived for the ball, played the defense and got the ball to the open man, especially when we had to. You can be assured of one thing: we'll be a factor in the divisional race and the playoffs."

Scott Wedman scored 22 points and Bill Robinson added 20 to lead the Kings. The victory was Kansas City's eighth in the last 10 games.

In the other NBA game Thursday night, the Cleveland Cavaliers trimmed the New York Knicks 117-115.

For the Pistons, languishing in the NBA's Central Division basement, the defeat was the fourth in a row and the eighth in 10 games. Bob McAdoo accounted for 32 points for Detroit and grabbed 14 rebounds.

The Pistons managed a 28-27 lead after the first quarter, in which McAdoo scored 14 points.

The Kings pulled in front 52-43 by halftime and led by as many as 14 points in the third quarter but Detroit — led by McAdoo, Eric Money and John Long — cut the gap to 92-89 with a little more than three minutes left in the game.

But a basket by Robinson and two free throws by Sam Lacey quickly restored the Kings to a seven-point lead. They were not seriously pressed the rest of the way.

Otis Birdsong chipped in with 19 points for the winners while Money and Bob Lanier each had 12 for the losers. Lanier made only one basket in the second half.

Detroit's interim Coach Richie Adubato second-guessed himself on his decision to go with his veteran players when the score reached 92-89.

"The rookies got us back into the game," Adubato said. Maybe we should have played the kids all the way down to the finish but you feel if you go back to your starters in such a situation ... and they're fresh off the bench, maybe they can put the game away for you. But Lanier, McAdoo and the rest were just too exhausted."

Cavaliers 117, Knicks 115 Cleveland squandered a ninepoint lead in the closing 5:38 but beat New York when Randy Smith barely beat the final buzzer with a layup.

The Knicks went on a 15-4 spree to take a 115-113 lead with 1:09 left, but Fouts Walker tied it with a pair of free throws. Cleveland got the ball back when Mike Mitchell took the rebound of an off-balance shot by New York's Ray Williams and sent the ball to Smith for the winning points.

Bill Cartwright had 31 points for the Knicks, while Mitchell scored 27 to help the Cavaliers win their fifth game in the last seven.

The Sugar Bowl finally will learn which Southeastern Conference football team serves as its host Saturday when top-ranked Alabama collides with archrival Auburn, the nation's No. 14 power, at Birmingham's Legion Field.

Alabama, riding a 19-game overall winning streak and 22 straight within the conference, can nail down a berth opposite either Arkansas or Texas in the Sugar on New Year's Day with a victory or tie against the War Eagles.

If Auburn upsets the twotouchdown favored Crimson Tide, however, the Sugar Bowl spot would go to Georgia and Alabama would make a Christmas Day appearance against Pittsburgh in the Fiesta Bowl.

Alabama, 10-0 overall and 5-0 in the SEC, already has clinched at least a tie for its eighth conference championship in nine years. Georgia has finished its season at 6-5 and 5-1 and would share the title with Alabama if Auburn wins.

Auburn also could finish at 5-1 in the SEC, but is banned from winning the conference title because it is on NCAA probation.

The Alabama-Auburn clash is one of three that completes the regular season in the SEC. Tennessee entertains Vanderbilt in another afternoon game and Florida visits Miami of Florida under the lights.

The SEC's Sugar Bowl foe also will be determined Saturday when Texas meets Texas A&M. If Texas wins, it goes to New Orleans and Arkansas goes to the Cotton Bowl. But if the Aggies upset the Longhorns and Houston beats Rice as expected, Houston would go to the Cotton, Arkansas to the Sugar and Texas to the Sun Bowl.

Besides Alabama, two other SEC teams and two area independents face postseason competition — Louisiana State vs. Wake Forest in the Tangerine Bowl; Tennessee vs. No. 12 Purdue in the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl; No. 4 Florida State vs. No. 5 Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl; and No. 16 Tulane vs. No. 19 Penn State in the Liberty Bowl.

The Auburn-Alabama clash will match the Tigers' two 1,000-yard rushers, James Brooks and Joe Cribbs, against the nation's No. 1 defense, headed by linebacker Thomas Boyd and erd E. J. Junior.

"There is no doubt in my mind that Auburn is the best team we have played this year," said Coach Bear Bryant of Alabama.

"I think we've got a heck of a chance," Coach Doug Barfield of Auburn said. "We're not interested in being second best (in the state), I'll tell you that. If we beat Alabama Saturday, we'll claim the (SEC) championship whether it's official or not."

Tennessee, which may regain the services of quarterback Jimmy Streater, is a whopping four-touchdown choice over Vandy, which has lost 23 straight SEC games.

Florida, a one-touchdown underdog, will try to avoid its first winless season since 1946 when the Gators carry a 0-9-1 record into the battle with Miami.

Payne Continues In Competition

James Payne, son of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Payne, Sr., of Calloway Ave., will compete in the national semifinals in the Punt, Pass and Kick Competition at halftime of the December 16 National Football League game between Houston and Philadelphia at the Houston Astrodome.

Payne (whose name was incorrectly given as Walter in Tuesday's edition), won the regional competition for eight-year-olds in Cincinnati over the past weekend.

The winners in the semifinals will advance to the finals which will be held during halftime of the Super Bowl.

Punt, Pass and Kick is sponsored nationally by the Ford Motor Co. and locally by Parker Ford.

Winning Six Of Last Eight

Giants No Longer Easy Game

By HAL BOCK
AP Sports Writer

There was a time when a National Football League team in need would welcome the sight of the New York Giants showing up on the schedule.

The Giants were like the NFL's Salvation Army, offering tender loving care to the needy.

But lately, this team has turned ornery, winning six of its last eight games and salvaging the season. Can they still find some sympathy and solace for the staggering Dallas Cowboys?

If ever a team needed understanding it is the Cowboys, who've slipped one game back of Philadelphia in the NFC East race. Depend on the Giants. They'll come through for a Dallas club that badly needs a soft shoulder.

The Pro Picker feels the same way. Another tough week wound up 7-7, leaving the season's mark at 111-69, 617.

The picks:
DALLAS 24, N.Y. GIANTS 17: Roger Staubach won't let the Cowboys lose again, now that they absolutely must win.

HOUSTON 31, CLEVELAND 27: Until realignment, the Browns are doomed to keep on chasing Pittsburgh and Houston in the AFC Central.

PITTSBURGH 30, CINCINNATI 10: Lost in the excitement of the World Series was the Bengals' embarrassment of the Steelers in their first game. Chuck Noll remembers, though.

LOS ANGELES 21, MINNESOTA 10: Vince Ferragamo gives a pretty good imitation of Pat Haden, doesn't he?

OAKLAND 34, NEW ORLEANS 21 (Monday night): It is written in the good book of football picks, thou shalt not pick an NFC team to beat an AFC team...

SAN DIEGO 27, ATLANTA 7: ... especially if the Falcons are the NFC team involved.

DENVER 20, BUFFALO 17: A bounce-back week after losing to Oakland. Joe Ferguson will need some fancy play-calls to beat the Broncos' defense.

TAMPA BAY 17, CHICAGO 13: See the Bucs win their first title. See John McKay smile, just like when the Bucs were losing.

PHILADELPHIA 21, DETROIT 13: Ron Jaworski and the Eagles like that first place feeling.

WASHINGTON 16, GREEN BAY 7: The Redskins are tough at home and they'd better be at this stage.

SEATTLE 27, KANSAS CITY 14: Fourth-and-whatever and the Seahawks go for it. This team knows how to put fun back into football.

ST. LOUIS 24, SAN FRANCISCO 21: The 49ers are in one of those win-by-losing situations and the No. 1 draft choice is out there, waiting for them to keep on losing.

BALTIMORE 14, N.Y. JETS 10: The Jets are on a treadmill, going nowhere in a hurry. The Colts can tell them all about it. They've been there.

Ranks Of Those Wanting To Replace Natcher Growing

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (AP) — The ranks of the politically ambitious who would like to replace Rep. William H. Natcher, D-Ky., are growing. But, among the dozen or so who envision themselves representing Kentucky's 2nd District on Capitol Hill, few if any are likely to challenge Natcher in the 1980 election.

Staff aides said Natcher will seek a 15th two-year term. His potential opponents, most of whom are members of the state legislature, agree that it would be extremely difficult to beat Natcher, who has built a broad base of support during a quarter century of domination in the district.

They would prefer that the 60-year-old Natcher retire, leaving the field wide open. However, the powerful congressman shows no inclination to step down.

On the contrary, he enjoys good health, and apparently intends to build on his national record of 11,340 consecutive roll call votes without a miss.

And the scope of Natcher's efforts seem to have broadened in the last year with his ascension to the chairmanship of the most powerful subcommittee in Congress, the Labor-HEW subcommittee of the House Appropriations Committee, which oversees a mammoth $232 billion budget.

"He'd definitely be a formidable candidate, but I've never seen a man who wasn't beatable," said state Rep.

Bobby Richardson, D-Glasgow. Majority leader of the state House of Representatives, Richardson said he "would like to represent the 2nd District in Congress, but my inclination is not to be a candidate in 1980."

Richardson, 35, has long been discussed in political circles as a possible candidate and has even been introduced in various gatherings as "our next congressman."

"A lot of people have indicated interest in me running and have said they would support me," Richardson said.

Similarly, state Sen. Joe Prather, D-Vine Grove, president pro tem of that body, said, "A lot of people have talked to me about" challenging Natcher in the Democratic primary. "But I don't plan to at this time. It would be awfully tough. He's done his homework."

With the 5th District congressional race up for grabs in the wake of the retirement of Rep. Tim Lee Carter's, R-Ky., retirement and a possible challenge to Rep. Carroll Hubbard, D-Ky., brewing in the 1st District, much speculation has spilled over into the 2nd District race.

That's how George Atkins, outgoing state auditor and incoming state finance secretary in the John Y. Brown administration, explains the rumor that he would challenge Natcher.

"There's nothing to it," said the former Hopkinsville mayor, who now lives in Lawrenceburg. "The first thing I did when I heard the rumor was call Bill and tell him it wasn't true. I told him that I'd help to see that he stays up there."

Another supporter of Brown, Bowling Green lawyer Joe Bill Campbell, has been mentioned as a possible candidate for the 2nd district seat. "Of all elected public officials, that one holds more intrigue for me," Campbell said.

Other potential candidates, who do not plan to run against Natcher at this time, but who may do so in the future are state Sens. Delbert Murphy, D-Owensboro, and Joe Wright, D-Harned, and state Rep. Donald Blandford, D-Philpot.

While several Democrats aspire to the office, the only Republican to express interest is state Sen. Walter Baker, R-Glasgow, the Senate minority leader.

"I'm interested, but whether I run in 1980 remains to be seen," said Baker, who opposed Natcher in 1976 and was beaten by some 25,000 votes.

"It would be an uphill battle for a member of my party," said Baker in reference to voter registration of 177,762 Democrats to 52,187 Republicans in the 20-county district in central and western Kentucky.

At least one independent is considering opposing Natcher. Edmonson County Attorney Natty Bumpoo, who changed his name from John Dean during the Watergate scandal said, "It would be a hassle, but I'm seriously toying with the idea of running as an independent." Bumpoo said he would have to garner 400 signatures to get on the ballot.

Miss Lillian Says She'd Pay To Kill Khomeini

By ANDREW SCHNEIDER

Associated Press Writer
BOW, N.H. (AP) — Lillian Carter said if she had enough money she would pay someone to kill the Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini. The audience at the Bow Men's Club stood and cheered.

At the White House, a spokesman said late Thursday: "I am sure Miss Lillian did not expect anyone to take that comment seriously."

The president's mother was asked during a lengthy question-and-answer session Thursday night, how she would "handle fanatics" like the religious leader of Iran if she were president.

"If I had a million dollars to spare, I'd look for someone to kill him," she responded, to much applause.

Mrs. Carter, 81, defended her son's position in the crisis in which 50 Americans are being held hostage at the U.S. Embassy in Tehran to press Iran's demand that the deposed shah be returned from the United States to stand trial.

"How can you send the shah back to a sword? To certain death?" she asked.

Several members of the audience praised Carter's handling of the crisis, again to the loud cheers of the mostly Republican group packing the small community center on the outskirts of Concord.

After the gathering, during which Miss Lillian spoke of her other son, Billy, and some of the men challenging Jimmy Carter in the presidential race, a man yelled out:

"I don't know who everyone in this room is going to vote for, but I'll tell you one thing, if we were voting for the mother of the president, I know who'd win."

Man Gets Final Paycheck From State 44 Years Late

HENDERSON, Ky. (AP) — It took 44 years, but Charles Davis finally received his final paycheck from the state of Kentucky. It amounted to $2.80.

Davis last worked for the state Department of Highways in December 1935, leaving the job when Albert B. "Happy" Chandler assumed the governorship.

Davis put in one final day of work for which he hadn't been paid. He shoveled snow off the Dade Park Bridge, which used to span the Ohio River between Kentucky and Indiana.

Davis didn't press the matter as the years passed, but earlier this year he decided it was time to square accounts. So he wrote a letter to Lt. Gov. Thelma Stovall and enclosed a petition signed by some 50 persons — including

Pope John Paul II Takes One More Step Toward Unification

By DENNIS REDMONT

Associated Press Writer
ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) —

Pope John Paul II took one more step toward unification of the Roman Catholic and Eastern Orthodox Churches today by becoming the first pontiff in nine centuries to attend a full Orthodox service.

Although the pope did not join in celebrating Mass, he hummed through the liturgy in a low voice and made the sign of the cross from right to left in the Orthodox manner, and not from left to right as Roman Catholics usually do.

The pope wore a white robe and a red mantle topped with a gold-embroidered red sash, and was greeted by Patriarch Demetrius I at the St. George Orthodox Church for their second meeting in two days.

The patriarch wore a black robe and carried an iron staff topped with two iron serpents as he led the pope into the church for the feast of St. Andrew — the patron of the Orthodox church.

The pope apparently was unaware of the bombing of nine bank branches in Istanbul shortly after midnight by a Moslem extremist group protesting his visit to this predominantly Moslem nation.

Police said the blasts caused damage but no injuries. The banks were at least six miles from the residence of the Vatican envoy, where the pope was staying.

The pope told Istanbul's small Catholic community Thursday night at his first public Mass of his three-day Turkish visit. "I dare to hope that the day (of unity) is near. Personally I hope it is very near."

"I will participate in the celebration of the feast of St. Andrew," the pope continued, referring to the patron of the Orthodox church and senior brother of the Apostle Peter.

"But we will not be able to concelebrate. That is the most painful sign of the misfortune introduced in the only church of Christ through division."

The Roman Catholic Church and the Eastern Orthodox Churches split in the Great Schism of 1054, after a long-seething conflict over the authority of the pope. Pope Leo IX and Patriarch Michael Cerularius of Constantinople, the name for Istanbul until 1930, each excommunicated the other. Since then, no pope has ever attended an Orthodox Mass or Eucharistic liturgy.

Rapprochement between the two churches began when Pope Paul VI and Patriarch Athenagoras embraced at a historic meeting in Jerusalem in 1964. Three years later, the two churches lifted their mutual excommunications and exchanged visits.

Now, following in the footsteps of Pope Paul VI, John Paul II prepared the ground for a 60-member joint theological commission to overcome some of the difficulties still separating the two churches.

Turkey has completely blacked out the ecumenical aspect of John Paul's visit, which involves the tiny community of 60,000 Orthodox and 26,000 Catholics in this Moslem nation of 45 million.

The Turkish press, after a cool welcome, warmed to the pope after he kissed the ground upon arrival and delivered a plea for Christians and Moslems to work together to promote "moral values, peace and liberty."

The pope's overture to Islam was applauded by Abu Firas, the Ankara representative of the Palestine Liberation Organization. "In order to realize world peace it is imperative that the Islamic and Christian worlds unite," said Firas, who met the pope at a reception Wednesday.

Evansville, Vincennes, Henderson Shell Stations Go To Metric Pricing

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — About 15 Shell service stations in Evansville, Vincennes and Henderson, Ky., are converting to metric gasoline pricing, the company has announced.

John Pittman, district manager for the company's Nashville, Tenn., district, said the change to gasoline by the liter is purely an economic one.

Pittman said most station pumps don't have the capacity to register per-gallon prices over $1. As a result, Shell and other gasoline companies have been using the half-price system, which shows half of the total purchase price on the pumps.

Pittman said reworking the pumps to register costs at more than $1 a gallon would require a major equipment overhaul, while only minor gear changes must be made to convert to liter pricing.

Shell, which estimates that switching to metric pricing could save up to $90 million industrywide, has been working on the conversion for about six months, he said.

Because it takes about 3.78 liters to equal a gallon, unit prices on the pumps will be smaller. But the change will have no effect on the total amount a motorist pays for his

Last Of The Marx Brothers, Zeppo Marx, Dies In California

By GLORIA OHLAND

Associated Press Writer
PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Zeppo Marx — the last of the Marx Brothers and straight man to his three zany brothers, Groucho, Harpo and Chico — died early today at Eisenhower Medical Center, the hospital said. He was 78.

Nursing supervisor Pat Garrett said Marx died after a long illness, but declined to specify what it was. She said he was hospitalized Nov. 25.

Zeppo was the best looking, and in the movies he always got the girl.

But Zeppo didn't fit in with the zaniness of the others and left the group after the release of their fifth film, "Duck Soup," in 1933.

He had handled the comedy team's business matters and played romantic relief in the earliest and probably best Marx films: "The Cocoanuts," "Animal Crackers," "Monkey Business," "Horse Feathers" and "Duck Soup."

Zeppo was born Herbert Marx in New York City in 1901.

The family of comedians made audiences laugh time after time with their totally irreverent attempts at dismantling the establishment.

They were contemptuous of authority at a time when most young people behaved, and their nihilistic humor influenced later comedy writing.

After "The Cocoanuts" was released in 1929, many wouldbe comedians began imitating Groucho's crouching, loping walk, parted their hair in the middle; wore wire-rimmed glasses and square mustaches, and wiggled a cigar.

Groucho and Gummo died in 1977, Chico in 1961 and Harpo in 1964.

Zeppo married Marion Benda in 1927 and had a son, Timothy. But that marriage ended in divorce and he wed Barbara Blakely in 1959. His second marriage also ended in divorce. He lived in Palm Springs.

Memorial services will be held Sunday at the Temple Isaiah in Palm Springs, said publicist Lee Solters.

Phyllis George Brown Announces She Is Expecting A Child

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Phyllis George Brown, wife of Gov.-elect John Y. Brown Jr., announced Thursday that she is expecting a child next summer.

Mrs. Brown, speaking at a dinner honoring longtime Democratic Party adviser Ed Prichard, said the child is expected about July 14. Mrs. Brown, a former Miss America, married Brown last March 17. It is the second marriage for each.

There had been rumors that Mrs. Brown was pregnant, and a Louisville newspaper reported earlier this week that Kentucky's new first lady was shopping over the weekend for maternity clothes.

The retired farmer said he won't part with the check for any amount of crisp green bills. "I'm not going to cash it," he said. "I'm having it framed."

HUD Rejects City's Grant Application

WINCHESTER, Ky. (AP) — The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development has rejected the city of Winchester's application for a $3 million grant, according to Mayor Carroll Ecton.

The city sought the three-year grant for a number of neighborhood rehabilitation projects.

Ecton said a letter from HUD referred to the number of applications received for the grant, but gave no reason for Winchester's rejection.

Christmas is a drag.
How many times have you said or at least thought this? It can be a drag if we let it.
At this time of the year it's good to slow down long enough to realize what Christmas is all about. It isn't just trying to find gifts for all the relatives or having to wade through all those noisy parties. It isn't the tinsel and colored lights, nor is it noxious things like chestnuts on an open fire. It isn't even the celebration of the birth of the Christ Child.
The real reason for celebration is for the expression of God's love in His act of placing His own Son on an extremely hostile little planet called Earth.
During this Christmas holiday, go into a church and let the reality of this thought soak deeply into your soul. Come to the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) and share these moments with us. Celebrate with us this glorious expression of God's love through His Son.
Let's make it a really merry Christmas.

Music Personnel To Play With Orchestra

Five faculty members and 14 students from Murray State University will be performing with the Paducah Symphony Orchestra when it presents its premiere performance at 8 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 1, at the Paducah Tilghman High School auditorium.

Faculty members from the Department of Music in the 60-piece orchestra are: Robert Gillespie, violin; Neale B. Mason, violoncello; Mark Murray, trumpet; Ray Smith, oboe; and Tom Vanarsdel, percussion.

Students to perform are:

Connie Ottway and John Houston, violin, and Jennifer Reichmuth, violoncello, all of Murray; Nancy Patton, violin, Evansville, Ind.; Scott Anderson, string bass, Louisville; Beth Gregory, oboe, and Lonnie Klein, clarinet, both of Henderson.

Sheila Bondurant, clarinet, Jane Harold, bassoon, and Scott Kaufman, percussion, all of Paducah; Alison Dobroth, bassoon, Belleville, Ill.; Tom Miller, French horn, Logan, W. Va.; Tim Jones, French horn, Park Forest, Ill.; and Cindy Noffsinger, Music on the program for the Saturday evening concert will include Beethoven's "Egmont Overture," Mozart's "Haffner Symphony," and three dances from "The Bartered Bride" by Smetana.

David Weddle, conductor, said the success of the orchestra will depend largely on the current membership campaign. Persons or businesses contributing $100 or more receive two season tickets.

Those contributing $1,000 or more will be accorded benefactor status, while those who contribute $500 to $1,000 will have patron status and those who contribute $100 to $500 will have sponsor status. Membership contributions are tax-deductible.

Weddle said most of the tickets will be sold through the membership drive, but individual tickets will also be available at the door and through the City-County Arts Council in Paducah (444-7713).

Irish Boy Finds United States Full Of Baseball, Hamburgers

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN
AP Special Correspondent
RIDGEFIELD, Conn. (AP)

Paul, my Irish nephew, writes that he has lost the baseball he brought home with him just as his playmates in South Armagh were getting the hang of the game.

I wonder what became of that baseball. It must have been a strange sight on an Irish road or sticking out of a trout stream like a rock with red seams.

Perhaps the British army threw a collision mat over it and blew it up in one of those controlled explosions that break windows for miles around. They might have mistaken it for a grenade.

Things get pretty tense in his section of Ulster. They call it "The Murder Triangle," because in the past decade Catholics and Protestants have been murdering, maiming and burning each other out and more than 60 British soldiers have died in the vicinity.

Still, Paul rarely spoke of "The Troubles." He had just turned 14 when he came to spend the summer with us, his first trip away from the violence-saturated green countryside "around Crossmaglen, except for a school trip to Liverpool."

He loved America from the start, although not unreservedly.

He loved hamburgers, vanilla ice cream, steak barbecued on the charcoal grill, Pepsi-Cola, fig Newtons and French fries, which of course he called "chips," and jokes. He loved the New York Yankees. He couldn't abide pizza, hot dogs, baked macaroni and, thank God, lobster. He had mixed feelings about American football and, watching a pro game on TV, couldn't understand why the Dallas Cowboys wore "steel helmets."

Paul worshipped weekly at the shrine of Mork and Mindy and loved almost everything else on TV from game shows to commercials. With a dozen channels to choose from, instead of only three at home, he could sit for hours, motionless and pop-eyed as one of those stone figures on a medieval Celtic cross.

But after supper he sometimes abandoned the tube to take a walk along the road, something no one ever does after dark in his part of Ireland.

They say that war brutalizes people, but in a decade of covering wars around the world I have rarely found this to be so. Paul was gentle and easy going, like those Israeli families I met living in the kibbutzes under constant attack on the Golan Heights or the Montagnard tribes in Vietnam's central highlands. He got along fine with the neighborhood kids, who didn't seem to notice his nasal Ulster brogue as much as we did and taught him enough baseball to experience the boyhood panic of breaking a window.

We hope the box of baseballs gets there by Christmas, and the new joke book. Ireland could use a few laughs. And fewer broken windows.

Explosion In Evansville May Be Caused By Gas

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — An explosion that sent two Evansville residents to the hospital and demolished a north side house may have been caused by propane gas, fire department investigators say.

Injured in Thursday's explosion were Larry and Jeanne White, both 25. Mrs. White was treated and released from a city hospital where White was listed in fair condition with an eye injury.

Fire department investigator Roger Griffin said the blast, heard in many areas of the city, apparently was caused by a buildup of propane gas in a recreational trailer.

He said the force of the blast, and the fire that followed, destroyed the White's house next door.

Donald Oakley, acting district fire chief, said the force of the trailer explosion apparently toppled a wall in the house and caused the roof to cave in, while simultaneously setting the building on fire.

The News In Brief

NATIONAL
NEW YORK (AP) — Americans, outraged that fellow citizens are held hostage in Iran, fear the crisis could lead to war, an Associated Press-NBC News poll says. Nevertheless, the public would support military action if the hostages were harmed or put on trial.

The poll, taken Tuesday and Wednesday, found extraordinarily strong public feelings tempered by the awareness of the grave dangers posed by the crisis.

LENOIR CITY, Tenn. (AP) — The 43-year battle over the Tellico Dam ended with the Little Tennessee River gurgling a few last bubbles as floodgates dropped to turn it into a 16,000-acre lake.

The last gate of six seven-ton gates fell into place at 11:23 a.m., ending a fight in which TVA at one time or another beat back attacks of farmers, trout fishermen and conservationists in addition to Cherokee Indians and the 3-inch snail darter.

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexico turned its back on the shah and jarred his U.S. hosts, declaring it will not renew the deposed monarch's tourist visa because his presence "would be contrary to the best interests of the country." There was speculation the shah might seek sanctuary in Egypt or the Caribbean.

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Hundreds of thousands of Iranians, marking the holiest day of their Shiite Moslem calendar, massed today at Tehran University in preparation for a march to the U.S. Embassy where Iranian militants are holding at least 50 Americans hostage.

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — John Paul II took one more step toward uniting Catholics of the Latin and Eastern rites today by becoming the first pope in nine centuries to attend a full Orthodox church service.

MOUNT EREBUS, Antarctica (AP) — Smoke from Antarctica's only active volcano meanders slowly skyward. A few hundred yards away, one of the few recognizable pieces of wreckage from an Air New Zealand DC-10 offers mute testimony to one of aviation history's worst disasters.

This is the scene on the slopes of 12,400-foot Mount Erebus, where the jetliner crashed and exploded Wednesday on a sightseeing trip, killing all 257 persons aboard, including 21 Americans.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Carter administration is likely to yield somewhat to demands for higher defense spending as a price for support of the SALT II treaty, Senate sources report.

But a solid majority of the Senate Armed Services Committee is reported to be pressing for a vote next week to recommend that the Senate not ratify SALT II unless the pact is drastically revised.

Helton Named To Louisville's Board Of Trustees

Helton, 31, of Louisville, will assume his new positions Dec. 5.

HERE'S HEALTH

By DR. BRYAN THACKER

Successful people sometimes boast of the price they pay for achievement. The ulcer was once the "status symbol" — the "badge of success." In recent years the backache has taken over as the "status symbol," the price paid for living under constant high stress. Nervous stress can cause physical discomfort which can be very severe. It may start with a "tightness" in the hips, legs or back which builds with pressure and forewarns that a painful backache is coming.

Certainly it is advisable to eliminate stressful situations as much as possible and to let chiropractic help correct trouble that cannot be avoided. Phone for an appointment.

TV Business Workings Realized

By PETER J. BOYER
AP Television Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP)—I realize that the business workings of television are becoming more familiar to the general public, with all the attention paid to ratings and everything but something happened the other day that set me back.

My old pal Jake had stopped by, as he usually does on Sundays, to eat dinner and watch a Shatner Holmes movie. Basil Rathbone solved the mystery of the Scarlet Claw, and, while "The Jambalaya" simmered, we talked.

"How's real estate?" I asked.

"Makin' more money than the law allows," replied Jake, as he always does, even when he's a month behind on rent.

"How's TV?" he asked. "There ought to be some good stuff on. It's sweeps month, isn't it?"

"Sweeps month?" I asked, astonished. "How do you know that?"

"Heard it on TV," he replied.

I changed the subject. I didn't want to hear about counterprogramming.

"Jake was right, though, this is sweeps month, when the two biggest TV ratings services measure local audiences. The Arbitron and A.C. Nielsen reports are used by local stations to set their advertising rates for the entire business quarter."

Naturally, these ratings sweeps are very important to network affiliates, and, of course, networks like to keep their affiliates happy. So sweeps periods are usually crammed with big, expensive, attractive television aimed at boosting ratings.

There are two general attitudes toward the quarterly sweeps. One is that TV viewers are the losers in these intense competitions, forced to choose one hotshot program over another.

The opposite view is that viewers gain by the choice, that, at least there is a choice between good shows. And, according to this argument, the program passed on now will be viewed as a repeat.

Good Grief America Simply Not That Funny

By TOM JORY
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — It was a bold attempt to rewrite public TV's definition of humor, but the budget for "Good Grief America" was tiny and the show — if audience reaction means anything — simply was not that funny.

"The budget for this how could've been rented Bill Murray's sports jacket," quipped Sean Kelley as he introduced the cast of "Good Grief America" to a college crowd here the other night.

The reference to Murray, star of "Saturday Night Live," was intentional, perhaps a declaration that the Public Broadcasting Service was about to challenge NBC's late-night comedy revue at its own game.

"There's been a lingering feeling among a lot of people at PBS that we should have done a show like 'Saturday Night Live,'" said Barry Chase, PBS' director of current affairs programming. "It's the kind of risk-taking we ought to be doing."

Chase spoke an hour or so before the taping at Yale University's Woolsey Hall.
